3. Download supporting companion materials for the program, such as a transcript (if available).

The screenshot shows the Skillsft website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with 'excel' entered, and dropdown menus for 'In Video' and 'IT and Desktop Videos'. Below the search bar, there are navigation links like 'LOG OUT', 'SUPPORT', and 'Advanced Search'. The main content area features a video player for 'Microsoft Excel 2010: Creating PivotTable Reports' by Adam Wilcox. The video description includes a list of topics: identifying PivotTable interface elements, creating a PivotTable from scratch, specifying column and row labels, formatting values, and filtering/summarizing data. A 'Play Option' menu is visible on the right, with '1' and '2' highlighting the 'Video' and 'MP4 Video Download' options respectively. At the bottom left, a red circle '3' highlights the 'Companion Files' section, which contains a 'Transcript' link.

Once you've launched the video, you can:

4. Use the viewer controls to play, pause, and adjust the volume of the video.
5. Use the Accessibility Modes (High Contrast and Captions On modes) to view the video.
6. Click the Full Screen icon  to view the video in full screen mode.

The screenshot shows a video player interface. The video content features a man, Adam Wilcox, speaking in front of a computer screen displaying an Excel spreadsheet. The video player controls at the bottom include a play button (circled with '4'), a progress bar, and two accessibility options: 'High Contrast On' and 'Captions On' (circled with '5'). A full screen icon is also visible (circled with '6').
